

Kevin Schwenker FCMC will be live in Abu Dhabi in October to deliver a live, classroom version of the Principles of Ethical Conduct – next CMC-GI on-line course dates are also announced below. (Sept 21, 2017)

Dear Colleagues:

Live in ABU DHABI – The Principles of Ethical Conduct Oct 16, 2017, 9am to 4pm

CMC-Global Institute, in cooperation with the Abu Dhabi University Knowledge Group, is excited to announce this one-time opportunity to participate in an exciting ethics workshop - The Principles of Ethical Conduct. This a one-day workshop is meant to equip participants with the ability to support their clients with tools and resources which will help them make informed, ethical decisions.

As a national trainer for CMC-Canada, Kevin has taught over two thousand management consultants in introductory and advanced courses for the CMC designation since 1996. He currently delivers two leading-edge programmes, The Essentials of Management Consulting and Ethical Conduct for Management Consultants across North America and around the world in co-located private and public workshops.

Kevin also led the team that wrote CMC-Canada's national Common Body of Knowledge entitled, Management Consulting: An Introduction to the Methodologies, Tools and Techniques of the Profession. It was published in April 2010 and has since been adopted by other CMC Institutes. His work for CMC-GI includes delivery of the Essentials, plus a modified course on ethics – the Principles of Ethical Conduct which he will be presenting live in Abu Dhabi.

The CMC-Global Institute is part of an international network of management consulting institutes. As with all other Institutes, our mandate is to promote high standards of management consulting – and in our case, work in countries not served by any of the approximately 50 stand-alone Institutes worldwide.

For more information on the live course, made possible with the kind cooperation of the Abu Dhabi University Knowledge Group, please see the attached e-brochure. If you have any questions, feel free to email Kevin in Canada, or direct questions through the person who shared this announcement with you.

You can book your spot for this one-time limited live engagement here - Principles of Ethical Conduct ABU DHABI – Oct 16, 2017, 9am to 4pm.

CMC-GI is also pleased to announce our next on-line professional development workshops being delivered by Kevin as follows:
