

Be successful with Constantinus International

CMC - GLOBAL

The International Council of Management Consulting Institutes (ICMCI), the global association of national management consulting institutes, has initiated the Constantinus International Award in order to promote excellence in consulting services worldwide.

The dynamic branch of management consulting is an important sparring partner for businesses and entrepreneurs – especially, when precise expertise and efficient implementation of measures are demanded.

The primary objective of establishing this award is the promotion of the consulting sector in general as well as individual outstanding consulting projects not only nationally, but on a global scale. For the nominees, this award will be an important tool to strengthen the client-consultant-relationship through the celebration of successful joint endeavours in addition to raising the international recognition of their projects.
